ImpactA Global Bolsters Distribution Team with Two Senior Hires

London, UK –28.05.2024 – ImpactA Global, the women-led infrastructure debt specialist for the Emerging Markets, today announced the appointment of two seasoned distribution professionals to its growing team. Clodagh Bourke joins as Head of Fundraising and Lindsey Bass comes on board as Head of Marketing and Strategic Partnerships.

“We are thrilled to welcome Clodagh and Lindsey to the ImpactA team,” said Isabella da Costa Mendes, Founding Partner and co-CEO. “Their extensive and complementary experiences and proven track records in building investor relationships will be instrumental in driving our growth and success.”

- Clodagh Bourke brings over 17 years of experience in distribution, most recently serving as Head of Product Management at Aptimus Capital Partners, the private markets specialist. She has a strong background in fundraising for private markets vehicles with a focus on Emerging Markets strategies, including nearly 10 years at Development Partners International (DPI). Clodagh brings to the team her proven ability to raise capital and develop strong client relationships across continents.
- Lindsey Bass joins ImpactA with 18 years of experience in sales, marketing and relationship management. In her previous role as Head of Consultant Relations at Legal & General Investment Management (LGIM), she was responsible for leading the strategic relationships with the investment advisors to UK institutional investors. Lindsey's expertise in the UK institutional space and beyond, and her strategic marketing skills will be invaluable to our team.

Clodagh Bourke commented: “I am excited to be joining the team and look forward to leveraging my experience across both private markets and Emerging Markets to help drive the growth of this innovative and impactful strategy.”

Lindsey Bass also added “I am thrilled to be working with a women-led team focused on delivering better outcomes for the climate transition and addressing inequalities. This is an exciting time to be involved”.
